

RCPCH Epilepsy Passport - disclaimer

By using the Epilepsy Passport, you expressly agree that you are doing so at your sole risk and discretion. The content of the Epilepsy Passport is provided for general information only. It is not intended to amount to advice on which you should rely. In particular, this information is not a substitute for professional medical care by a qualified health professional. If you are not a health professional, then you should ALWAYS check with a health professional before taking, or refraining from, any action on the basis of the content of the Epilepsy Passport. If you are a health professional then this information is intended to support, not replace, your own knowledge, experience and judgment.

Please note that The Royal College of Paediatrics and Child Health does not accept any responsibility with regard to completeness of the passport nor its suitability for any particular purpose. The RCPCH has not provided nor will it check any content incorporated within the passport. Accordingly, in no event shall The Royal College of Paediatrics and Child Health be liable for any direct or indirect losses or damages of any kind whatsoever, whether based in contract, tort, strict liability, or otherwise, arising out of or in any way connected with your use of the Epilepsy Passport or any information you obtain from it.
