

A vital event

This two day conference will bring together clinicians, researchers and academics to discuss the unique challenges of caring for adolescents and showcase new ideas and innovations.

Day 1: Wednesday 18 September

Making health services for young people developmentally appropriate

Keynote speaker

Dr Maria Trent

Paediatrician and Adolescent Medicine Specialist, John Hopkins Children's Centre and President Elect, SAHM

Workshop topics

- Innovative health services
- Gender and health
- Migrant and asylum-seeking young people
- Complex physical conditions

Social

Conference dinner

Day 2: Thursday 19 September

Mental health

Keynote speaker

Professor Vikram Patel

The Pershing Square Professor of Global Health, Harvard Medical School and Wellcome Trust Principal Research Fellow

Workshop topics

- Eating disorders
- Digital and eHealth
- Advocacy
- Participation
- Global health and education

Delegate packages

- Two-day conference, hotel accommodation and dinner* - £399
- Two-day conference only - £299

Find out more and book your place: www.rcpch.ac.uk/adolescent

Meet some of our speakers

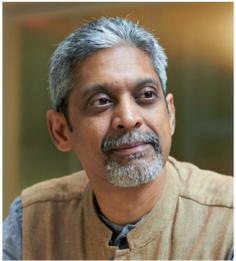

Dr Maria Trent

Pediatrician and adolescent medicine specialist in the faculty of the Johns Hopkins University Schools of Medicine, Nursing, and Public Health in Baltimore

“Health professionals must become more powerful on behalf of young people to help them reach their full potential.” #teensrock

Twitter: @MariaTrent5

Professor Vikram Patel

The Pershing Square Professor of Global Health at Harvard Medical School, Wellcome Trust Principal Research Fellow

“If some of our adolescents are failing in education, developing mental health problems, or getting into trouble with the law, it only means we have failed them as a society from their earliest years of life.”

Professor Deborah Christie, President, SAHM

Professor of paediatric and adolescent psychology
Consultant clinical psychologist/lead at University College London Hospital's NHS Foundation Trust

“This is why we get up every day, to advocate for every adolescent around the globe to get what they need to be successful.”

Twitter: @drdebs2110

Professor Russell Viner, President, RCPCH

Professor of Adolescent Health at the UCL Institute of Child Health in London, Director of the Department of Health Obesity Policy Research Unit

“Young adults aren't big children nor are they little adults; they are a unique subgroup of the population and need to be treated as such.”

Twitter: @RCPCHPresident

Both days will also feature contributions from Professor Russell Viner, RCPCH President and Professor Deborah Christie, SAHM President.

A fantastic venue

The Macdonald Berystede Hotel & Spa in Ascot is a beautiful, accessible, four-star hotel near Windsor which is surrounded by amazing landscaped gardens and offers access to spa facilities.

The venue is easily accessible from London by rail or car and is just 15 miles from Heathrow Airport.

Macdonald Berystede Hotel & Spa

Windsor Castle

Enjoy the local attractions

Set in the historic town of Ascot, you can enjoy a visit to the local race track, a choice of excellent golf courses or explore the attractive town centre. The world-famous Royal residence, and venue of the Prince Harry and Meghan Markle's wedding, Windsor Castle is nearby, as well as the John F. Kennedy memorial, and the Magna Carta Monument plus fun for the family at Legoland.

Venue Details

Further information on the venue, can be found at: www.rcpch.ac.uk/adolescent

Contact

RCPCH Events Team
E events@rcpch.ac.uk
T +44 (0)20 7092 6000