

Principle 7: Training time and learning opportunities are prioritised

Introduction

- It is our duty to deliver the best care to our children and young people now
- It is also our duty to deliver the best care to our children and young people of tomorrow
- RCPCH recognise that 'prioritisation of training time and learning opportunities' as balanced with service provision activities is critical to this

For Trainers...

- Read and enforce the Trainee Charter
- Encourage a multi-professional workforce to ensure non-training tasks can be delegated away from trainees
- Promote Rota Designs that allow abundant and truly protected education
- Complete Supervised Learning Events (SLEs) with trainees during service activities

For Trainees...

- Identify learning opportunities that occur naturally within your day-to-day roles; create an event on your ePortfolio and link to the Progress+ curriculum
- Most 'service work' should become educational
- Know what training you should expect as per the Trainee Charter
- Pass it on – teach others
