Child Protection Study Day 2019

RCPCH Scotland team
Specially developed for a Scottish audience, this one-day course provides child protection updates and addresses common challenges faced by general paediatricians when concerns arise about risk of harm to children and young people.
Date: 7 November 2019 - 7 November 2019
Time: 09.00 - 16.30
Location
Stirling Court Hotel
University of Stirling
Airthrey Rd
Stirling
FK9 4LA
United Kingdom
Spaces available

Fees
- RCPCH Member - Consultant - £90
- RCPCH Member - Trainees and SAS - £70
- Non-Member - £110

Book now

Overview
Participants will gain:
- Updated knowledge of child protection and current developments
- Top tips from experienced paediatricians on how to speak to parents and carers about child protection
- Opportunity to discuss tricky situations and how to manage them
Contribute to the discussion We invite delegates to submit case studies for our panel discussion about dilemmas and tricky situations. We'll make these available on Compass, our learning management system, before the course. If you're attending and have a case study, please email Louise on louise.slorance@rcpch.ac.uk by 1 November 2019.

Learning aims, objectives and outcomes

- Be aware of developments in some aspects of child protection
- Understand the role of the paediatrician relating to child protection
- Understand how experienced colleagues respond to referrals

The day provided me with a holistic child protection view in interesting and varied topics

Delegate from previous course

Audience

This event is suitable for anyone treating children to raise their awareness of child protection and enable individuals to deal with occurrences appropriately.